Coop Pharmacy School May Be Proposed By WT

An alternative proposal, one calling for West Texas State University to cooperate with another college in formation of a pharmacy school, is the hold card university officials will carry with them to Austin today for a meeting of a state college coordinating board committee meeting.

Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, university president, Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, academic vice president, and Bill Pittman, an Amarillo pharmacist, will attend the meeting today and will stay over in Austin tonight for a formal session of the Coordinating Board, State College and University System on Friday.

Watkins said if WTSU's proposal for establishment of a new pharmacy school on the Canyon campus is turned down by the committee today or the board Friday, he will suggest the university join with possibly Texas Tech to operate the school.

The coordinating board's program and development committee will consider the proposals from three Texas universities for establishment of a pharmacy school today. The committee tabled action on the requests during a Sept. 20 meeting during which they gave a tentative nod to several other program requests from WTSU.

WTSU's proposal must compete in the committee and before the board with a proposal from Texas Tech at Lubbock, the University of Texas at Dallas and Texas A&I.

The Tech proposal seeks establishment of the pharmacy school and a doctoral level program in pharmacology. The WTSU proposal calls for a five-year course consisting of two areas of concentration — hospital pharmacy or community pharmacy. Its program would not extend to the doctoral level.

Watkins said he expects the program and development committee to make a final decision on the proposal at today's meeting with their recommendation to go to the full board Friday. But, the pharmacy school issue has been postponed for nearly a decade by the coordinating board and was only reopened last year.

"I'm neither optimistic nor pessimistic about the outcome (of the coordinating board meeting)," Watkins said. "I don't have any experience to warrant feeling one way or the other."

Watkins says, though, that he believes WTSU has made a good and economical proposal for the pharmacy school.

"I honestly feel we've presented the best case," he said. "I feel there's evidence to show the need in the Panhandle area and I believe it will show we can fulfill that need most economically."

Pittman, who will go to Austin with Watkins and Malzahn, was a member of a study committee appointed by the coordinating board last fall to examine the need for a pharmacy school and possible site for the school. Pittman authored a minority report from the committee stating there is a need and the school should beat WTSU. The majority report said there is currently no need for a new pharmacy school.

Coordinating board approval is expected by local officials for several other degree programs proposed for implementation, including a baccalaureate degree in general studies and one in more technical fields. In addition, several graduate level degree programs are also pending approval.

Law Is On The Books Now

Paving Districts Already Legal

The formation of paving districts is already legal under Texas law, The News learned this week after County Commissioner John Fulgenzi asked fellow commissioners to have Dist. Atty. George Dowlen draw up a special legislative proposal to allow the county's rural residents to form such governmental entities.

Four paving districts are in existence in both Hansford and Sherman Counties, allowing those who use county rural roads to tax themselves to pay for their own pavement and in essence taking the county out of the county road paving business.

Apparently unaware of the enabling legislation already on the books, Fulgenzi received informal approval for his idea Monday from other commissioners.

Fulgenzi proposed the county go to the state legislature convening in January to seek special legislation for Randall County to provide the mechanism for establishment of paving districts within the county.

Saying the current system, which has the county paving about 30 miles of new rural road per year, is placing a burden on taxpayers within the cities of Amarillo and Canyon, Fulgenzi said formation of paving districts would place the tax burden for county roads on those who use the county roads.

Under current law, a paving district may be formed by rural residents after a vote of those registered voters living within the boundaries of the district.

Fulgenzi's proposal came following a meeting filled with rural road problems for commissioners.

Mrs. Elton Bryant, a rural county resident, represented nearly a dozen other persons all living about a mile west of the Claude Highway-Washington Street intersection and complained of the drainage problems on their road due to inadequate barrow ditches.

Noting that the school bus could not make it down the road to pick up school children, Mrs. Bryant asked commissioners to send a road crew to the road to clean out culverts and re-engineer the road to provide adequate drainage.

"We're all working people and we need to have something done so we can work and pay our taxes," she said.

One of the area residents who accompanied Mrs. Bryant to the meeting told commissioners it's been at least six years since the barrow ditch along the road has been cleaned.

"If these people don't know how to grade a road I can tell them," he said.

Upon questioning by Fulgenzi, Mrs. Bryant said her tax statement this year for the county totalled about $20.

"Probably the total tax we've received (from that area) is about $300," Fulgenzi said. "That's one of the problems."

Fulgenzi told the visitors the county cannot afford to pave rural dirt roads.

"We're not asking for pavement," said one visitor. "All we're asking for is making the road — well, it won't cost much more to grade it right, will it?"

Commissioner Jim Fletcher then explained that he, too, has lived on a dirt road for many years, but has persevered.

"We have 700 miles of dirt road in the county and you can see what our problem is," he said.

Commissioners promised a road crew would work on the road.

No sooner had they finished with the group from the north part of the county than they encountered another road problem in Timbercreek Canyon, a new development in the northeastern portion of the county.

Commissioners visited the area in Timbercreek Canyon for which the developers have sought filing a plat and reported Monday that 54-foot right-of-ways mapped for the subdivision would not be acceptable.

County road construction policy calls for 60-foot right-of-way for residential streets.

Commissioner Paul Lindsey warned commissioners that if the roads as now laid out were accepted for county road maintenance, the county would inherit a big problem due to the inadequacy of the culverts used on the roads.

Commissioners told Engineer

School Board Will Ask Rejection Of Annex Plea

The Canyon School Board will ask Randall County School Trustees tonight to reject a petition seeking annexation of 150 acres of land by the Amarillo School District from the Canyon district.

School Supt. Jerry Jacobs told school board members Tuesday night he will make a three-minute presentation to the trustees during tonight's public hearing on the petition request and will wind up his presentation "saying the School Board of the Canyon Independent School District does recommend that you decline this petition."

Board members did not respond to Jacobs' proposed speech, apparently agreeing with it.

The public hearing on the petition, which was presented school trustees several months ago by Developer Glen O'Dell, is set for 7:30 p.m. today at the county courthouse courtroom.

Jacobs told school board members he anticipates a good turnout for the meeting and urged them to attend.

In other business Tuesday night the school board met with Canyon city commissioners to review last year's operation of the joint school-city tax office. The two groups agreed to a charge of 5 per cent of the tax roll collections to be paid by the city to the school for operation of the office.

City and school joined in tax office operations several years ago, with the school administrative head of the office.

Board members and city commissioners perused figures presented by Conway Kuykendall, tax assessor-collector, and City Manager George Loudder on costs of the office.

The school figures indicate the cost of operation of the office will rise by $8000 in 1974-75 to a high of $50,200.

The city figures indicate that by paying the 5 per cent fee, the city is actually funding 31 per cent of the tax office operation while the tax roll of the city is only 20 per cent of the total combined rolls.

There was little problem in receiving a consensus on the fee, but school board members suggested the city eliminate a $1200 cost incurred each year through the publication of delinquent taxpayers in The Canyon News.

Jacobs told the city commissioners a study by Kuykendall during the period of time the several advertisements are run listing the names of delinquent taxpayers — usually in May each year — indicates the advertisement is bringing in only about $300.

But, Kuykendall admitted there is no way to tell how many

Election Sabotage 'Not Possible'

The electronic brain which will manipulate the votes in the Nov. 5 general election for Randall County can be neither brain-washed nor scrambled, according to officials at the West Texas State University computer center.

The general election will be the first run on the new DEC 10 computer acquired by the university, a device which can be run simultaneously from 41 different and widely dispersed input machines spread not only over the university campus but in Canyon, too.

Durwood Henderson, computer center manager, said even though the new computer allows individuals access to its vast memory storage area on a simultaneous basis, on election eve it will be devoted solely to compiling election results for County Clerk LeRoy Hutton.

Injuries Are Infrequent For City Football Players

Canyon High School football players have suffered relatively few and mainly minor injuries in practice and on the field this year, but CHS coaches are much more conscious of injuries since one Eagle suffered a broken neck about a month ago in a non-conference game.

The injury of Kelly Forehand, a 210-pound senior guard, in the Eagle game against Caprock, an injury which has hospitalized the young player in Amarillo and ended his football career was the worst witnessed by Athletic Director W.V. McAlpin in his two decades of coaching and teaching.

While the incident provided a sobering look at the dangers of athletics, McAlpin and Eagle Coach Ron Mills feel the danger of injury is a relative thing.

"I think probably something like that makes you more conscious," Mills said this week. "But, I still worry more about my kid (Ron Mills Jr., a 152-pound junior halfback on the Eagle squad) driving up there and back more than I do when he's on the field."

McAlpin, who's administratively responsible for the athletic program in all Canyon schools, said he feels the coaches at all levels are much more conscious of the possibility of serious injury to their players.

"We had a kid hurt in a 9th grade game and the coaches put him on a stretcher and wouldn't let him move and hauled him down to the doctor," McAlpin said. The coaches realize they must use extreme care in handling an injured player.

While Canyon High doesn't have a certified trainer on its staff, McAlpin said the handling of an injured player requires a goodly amount of just common sense.

"You should never move a boy until you know what the injury is," the athletic director said. "We're talking about common sense."

He said the coaches on the high school staff have had enough experience in athletics that they can handle minor injuries with first aid. And, they follow doctors' orders when a major injury occurs.

McAlpin attributes the low rate of injuries in Canyon football to the experience of the coaches, also.

After nine weeks of football this fall, a total of 16 injuries have been reported. Two have been serious — one involving Forehand and one involving Center Bob Lindsey, who underwent surgery Monday for a knee injury suffered last Friday night.

The other injuries have consisted of several twisted or sprained ankles, an injured elbow, injured clavicle and several broken fingers.

McAlpin said the CHS injury rate is running below average for a team with 80 players.

"In my 15 years, the Kelly Forehand injury is the worst I've been associated with," he said.

McAlpin said most injuries occur on the playing field rather than in practice, where empha-

County Writes Them That Way

Typewriter Bids Exclude Competition

Forced by publicity to seek bids for the purchase of four electric typewriters, Randall County commissioners had their way anyway Monday when they awarded a contract for the machines to IBM, the only firm allowed to bid by the exclusionary specifications.

While the specifications given to possible bidders for the typewriters are apparently not afoul of any state law, they are worded so only one firm can bid for the equipment.

The specifications, designed so only IBM could bid on the typewriters, cost county taxpayers $1200 they might have saved had other bidders been allowed.

At least one representative of an Amarillo office equipment firm complained that the county has used such specifications previously to ensure IBM the county's typewriter business.

The specification sheet, signed by County Auditor Betty Hodges, states the following:

"The commissioners court of Randall County authorized the advertisement for bids for the following:

"Four electric typewriters, capable of making error-free typing by correcting its own errors because of quality standards; must have capabilities of typing in both pica and elite spacing — pica spacing for correspondence, elite spacing for forms work; capability of accepting legal-size paper sideways; must have 15½ inch non-moving carriage because of space limitations."

One Amarillo office machine company official said the specifications exclude all bidders but IBM because no other typewriter on the market has an immovable carriage, or pica and elite type change-over.

County commissioners accepted the IBM bid of $693 for each typewriter. Only two other potential bidders responded Monday to the advertisement for bids.

One firm, Amarillo Office Machines, submitted a bid for an Olivetti typewriter which met all specifications except the immovable carriage, and the pica-elite standard and which would have cost the county only $399 each.

The other bidder, Wolfe Office Equipment, returned the bid form with the following note: "As the specifications are written, only one typewriter can meet them and we cannot supply it."

The Amarillo Office Machines bid also contained a letter noting the same thing: "I realize this machine (the Olivetti) does not meet all your specifications, but there is no other typewriter on the market today, but the IBM itself, that can meet these specifications."

The News was unable to determine how the specifications were written when bids were sought in July 1973 for six typewriters for the courthouse. Auditor Hodges is on vacation this week and specifications are not published in the newspaper.

The four machines requested and purchased Monday will replace older typewriters now in use in the district clerk's office, the district attorney's office and the county clerk's office. The IBM machines with non-movable carriages will replace typewriters long in use which have movable carriages.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton said to his knowledge there is no law which requires that forms, letters and various instruments to be filed by the county offices be turned out error-free. He said he could enter his various records through handwritten notations rather than by typewriter.

Andy Anderson, representative of Amarillo Office Equipment, told The News he questions whether the work the county offices are doing requires a machine which costs taxpayers about $300 each more than a good competitor.

"The only question that comes into my mind is are these particular specifications needed that much for $200 or $300 more?" he asked.

Football injuries . . . not uncommon at WT and CHS.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

by Troy Martin

An agency called the State Board of Control is spending in the neighborhood of $200 million a year of your money.

Entrenched and sometimes arrogant beaucrats with very little supervision are handling this cash and not always wisely.

We are in no position at the present time to say that anything illegal is taking place but we have cold facts to prove that in a time of national crisis some of the most wanton wastrels in this state infest the State Board of Control.

We give as an example the board's insistence that state college and university catalogs be printed on a 6 inch by 9 inch format instead of a standard 5½ x 8½.

In so doing the efficiency of rotary presses such as that operated by Southwest Offset in Amarillo, North Plains Printing in Hereford and Nortex in Quanah was sacrificed.

The 5½ x 8½ format gives as much type per page and is just as functional as the 6 x 9. West Texas State University officials ordered the 5½ x 8½ catalog last spring and saved something like $2,000 in cash and about a ton of very precious book paper.

The Canyon News set out to get the format changed across the board for all state supported institutions. The State Board of Control planted its feet firmly in the ground and wouldn't budge until prodded by Senators Max Sherman and Jack Hightower.

Getting a senatorial nudge, Homer Foerster, executive director of the State Board of Control, caved in and now most if not all college and university catalogs will be printed in the less expensive and much less wasteful method.

A ton of book paper and $2,000 in cash multiplied by all the catalogs printed by the state adds up to a breathtaking savings. Mr. Foerster, being a bureaucrat, naturally took credit for the change and what makes this so ludicrous is that Paul Loftin, board senior buyer, argues the point with people who are in a position to know better.

Hardly had the Board of Control been pulled kicking and screaming into the use of 20th century presses then it went on another wasteful tangent.

It severed typesetting from press work in production of catalogs which would have been fine if it had let this work out for competitive bidding but it didn't.

The board began pushing typesetting to an Austin firm at $6.75 a page claiming that the firm has an across the board contract. If indeed the Austin firm does have such a contract then the board has been in flagrant breach of it since May 1, the date which the board executives say it went into effect.

On competitive bidding the state could get the type set for $6 a page or maybe even less. The reason we know this is because we set the WTSU catalog last spring for $5.50 a page.

On these comparative figures the board wasted in the neighborhood of $500 in taxpayer money recently on a relatively small job.

We know this much, there seems to be an overt attempt to shut out small shops extremely capable of doing the work in favor of larger firms at much higher prices.

If the law sanctions this kind of operation, as Director Foerster and Senior Buyer Loftin contend, the law should be changed.

President Ford in a speech Tuesday night well said that Americans can solve their economic problems simply through eradication of waste.

Waste is most rampant in government itself. Here in Texas we have a board so much in the shadows that few people on the streets have even heard of it yet according to its director it spends $200 million a year of your money.

We have advanced irrefutable proof that sometimes that money is spent in complete contempt for the welfare of the people who must foot the bill.

Whether it is being done by design or through ignorance, the results are the same. It is economic sabotage at a time when our very way of life may be in the balance.

We don't believe the people of this community and this state will stand still for it. We believe that with your help Senators Sherman and Hightower can and will get something done about it.

The Canyon News has employed an investigative reporter to give the Board of Control its first real shakeout in history. We will give you the facts as they become available.

Hearing Today

The petition which seeks to have about 50 acres of subdivision land in South Amarillo annexed into the Amarillo School District will be discussed in a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. today in the Canyon courthouse.

The Randall County Board of School Trustees will meet in open session at that time and the sole item on the agenda is discussion of the annex issue, tossed in their laps several months ago by the subdivision developer.

It was not known whether the trustees plan to make a decision on the annexation issue following tonight's meeting. They have asked the state attorney general for an opinion on their role in the petition process, but no opinion has been forthcoming from Austin.

The trustees are under the legal gun from another direction, though. A civil suit has been filed in 47th District Court here by five residents of the subdivision seeking to force the trustees to decide the annexation issue in favor of the Amarillo district.

The suit also questions the election legality of three of the trustees and asks the judge, E. E. Jordan, to declare their election invalid. Randall County's Dist. Atty. George Dowlen has filed an answer declaring the suit is improperly filed because the complainants have not pursued all non-legal recourses.

Trustees have been hesitant to deal with the annexation issue with some flatly declaring they would not, at this time, favor annexation of the property into the Amarillo District from the Canyon District. Others have expressed no opinion and at least one has said he'd favor doing whatever the majority of those in the area affected desire.

Canyon School Board members are expected to be at the meeting tonight. They discussed their role in the public hearing during their Tuesday night meeting and initially at a regular meeting about three weeks ago.

School trustees are R. B. Gist, J. D. Barker, Don Marsh, Charles Purcell and Joe Turpin.

Now Response Good To Plan

Canyon Police Chief Al Stewart reported this week he has received good response to a new Operation Identification program in the city, an effort to stymie burglaries.

Stewart was pleased with the initial response, noting that those who participate can expect to see some benefits because citizen involvement has been shown in other cities to be of significant value in stopping burglars before they start.

Operation Identification entails marking valuables with a driver's license number and then displaying a sticker on the outside of your home, office or car that tells the burglar that anything he might steal will be hard or impossible to sell, and that getting caught with it in his possession would be asking for a jail sentence.

Marking enhances the owner's chances of retrieving stolen property because it provides a positive identification number to reclaim items once recovered.

When Operation Identification was conceived the initial question was to find a common marking method. The driver's license was chosen because of accessibility through inter-state agencies and because the identity of the licensee and his current address is available to any law enforcement agency on an instant retrieval basis.

Manufacturers of such items as office machines, typewriters, guns, appliances, etc., have assisted by attaching a serial number to each unit produced. Law enforcement agencies, insurance companies and others have encouraged individuals to list these numbers and preserve them for ready reference in case of theft. This has been of assistance where the items stolen had a serial number, the individual did make such a list, and when, after the offense was reported, the authorities to whom the report was made were able to arrest the suspect while in possession of the stolen items.

Law enforcement agencies found that these events rarely coincided and that they had to find an easier method of identification for themselves and owners. This is the concept behind Operation Identification.

On numerous occasions suspects are stopped by law enforcement officers because of suspicious action or items of value found in their possession. Often mere suspicion that the items are stolen is insufficient cause for arrest, and unless the suspect has committed some crime in the officer's presence, or admits that he has stolen the items, he generally must be released.

If the engraved identification number appears on the suspicious items, then the officer can check its ownership in a matter of minutes.

The Operation Identification mark clearly and readily identifies the owner of the valuables and helps in the apprehension of burglars.

The Canyon Police Department not only endorses citizen participation in Operation Identification, but promotes it. Individuals are encouraged to obtain an engraving pen free from the Canyon Police Department.

County Judges Ired Again

Texas' county judges are fired up again.

Fearing that state legislators will reopen a can of worms closed prior to the failure of the proposed new Texas constitution last summer, the state's lay county judges, including County Judge Woody Pond, resolved last week to oppose any move to require attornies to take over their jobs.

Pond returned from a state meeting of the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association Monday and said there is a consensus among lay county judges that efforts will be reinitiated in January, when the state legislature meets, to change the nature of the county court.

Pond, himself a leader in the constitutional convention last spring and summer to ensure a judiciary article which left county courts alone, said the state-wide organization is laying plans for an intensive lobbying effort in Januray.

"The consensus was that the judiciary article will come up again, but it will be changed," Pond said. An ardent opponent of change of the county court system, Pond said indications are now that the push will be for the appointment of county court at law judges with current lay county judges to serve as administrative heads of their counties.

That in essence was the proposal of the convention judiciary committee back in the spring, a proposal which was nixed only after Pond and dozens of other judges from throughout the state travelled to Austin to buttonhole legislator-delegates.

Pond views the proposal as an erosion of his power and as an unnecessary provision given the current constitution's language on establishment of county courts at law.

He has argued that an appointive system, one requiring a county judge to be an attorney, would be a much more expensive proposition for Texas counties.

The judge said the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association will join hands with the Texas Association of Counties in Austin to lobby against any new efforts to redo the judiciary article and possibly present it to the people of the state as a constitutional amendment.

The county judges said indications are that the judiciary article, as originally proposed by the constitutional convention committee, will be revived as a first order of business during the next legislative session. The article finally passed by the convention, but included in the overall document which failed to receive enough delegate support to be submitted to the people for a vote, called for a system much like the one established under the current constitution, voted in in 1876.

"We'll have some representatives of the association down there at all times," Pond said.

The judge said the association, meeting in Houston four days last week, also passed a resolution calling for the continuation of the federal revenue sharing program, which is to run out in 1977.

The association's action on revenue sharing parallels action by other municipal organizations to stress the need for further funding of the federal program, which will mean about $2 million to Randall County and the City of Canyon.

Simpson Calls For Break For Texas Taxpayers

A reduction in state taxes was called for this week by Robert Simpson, Democratic candidate for state representative.

Simpson, who faces John Kenehan on the Nov. 5 general election ballot, told The News he feels a tax decrease would be appropriate considering the huge surplus on the state books.

"I feel that with the economy like it is, it would be a very good thing for the state to try to lower taxes," he said.

Simpson said Gov. Dolph Briscoe has proposed the possibility of eliminating the sales tax utilities and said he would favor such a proposal. He said he might also favor a reduction in the general sales tax.

"I think with inflation, the state government can help put money back in people's pockets so they can cope with inflation," Simpson said.

The young Amarillo attorney who's making his first bid for public office said he would also favor efforts in the upcoming legislature to submit less controversial parts of the nearly passed Texas Constitution, the result of a full half-year of effort in Austin, to the voters as constitutional amendments.

But, he would want to ensure, he said, that legislators could or would not tamper with the constitutional portions. They would simply put some sections on the November 1975 ballot for voter consideration.

Simpson called for a reconvening of the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission last July just after the state's legislator-delegates failed to pass a revised constitution. He called on the CRC to revamp its original proposal and present it to the legislature for eventual submission to the electorate.

However, Simpson said, that proposal has apparently been rejected by the CRC, which reconvened recently and proposed formation of a citizens convention.

Simpson said the legislature has been given its turn at constitutional revision and he would favor formation of a citizens convention to refurbish the state's 100-year-old basic document.

Recognizing that if elected to office he will probably become embroiled in the next legislature's anticipated efforts to remodel state participation in funding of local school districts, Simpson said he understands that some school districts will require expenditures from the state treasury. But, he said while he believes all Texans should receive a quality education, no school district should be prohibited from adding local funds for enrichment.

"The alternative to that is if we require everybody to be exactly the same we'd wind up pulling down some of the better districts," he said. "I don't think we need uniform mediocrity."

Likewise, Simpson said there is a need for reform in the field of ad valorem tax assessment. He said he would not oppose a move to make the county the exclusive tax assessor for all governing bodies within the county. Under such a plan, all other governments would look to the county for the assessment value, but would run their own tax offices as they are currently.

Simpson said he is not going to Austin with any bills tucked under his coat, stressing rather that he believes a first term legislator can benefit greatly from just learning the procedures and the people.

'Great Gatsby Gala' Renewing Nostalgia

A nostalgic return to the 1920s is in store for area residents Saturday, October 26, as the "Great Gatsby Gala" is staged at the West Texas State University dining hall.

Adding to the fun for the evening of dancing, entertainment, fashions, and the charleston will be a fashionable group of Canyon's young ladies posing as the "cigarette girls" to distribute refreshments throughout the crowd.

The "cigarette girls" will include Roma Johnson, Sherry Knowles, Kelly Cox, Eloise Thompson, Vanessa Cotton, Marcella Patterson, JoAnn White and Sheryl Dees.

Tickets for the 'Great Gatsby Gala' are currently selling at $10 per couple or $5 for a single. Proceeds from the tickets will go to the Advisory Council on Campus Enhancement to go toward campus beautification projects.

The West Texas State University Office of Development at the Student Union Building, 656-2331, is the site for reservation of tickets. Ticket sales are under direction of John Childs, James Whyte and Keith Winter.

Contributions and checks may be made to West Texas State University (marked for Campus Enhancement) and are tax deductible, according to the Advisory Council.

Evangelism Services Underway

Eddie Leiberman is guest evangelist for a revival series being conducted this week at First Baptist Church of Canyon. Services continuing today (Thursday) and Friday are at 7 p.m. with Sunday's services being at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. A nursery is provided.

Raised in a Jewish home, Mr. Lieberman studied at the Central Jewish Institute and was a member of the Jewish Synogogue. At age 19, he became a federal prisoner. Following his prison release, Mr. Lieberman attended the Baptist Bible Institute (now the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary), Mars Hill Baptist College in North Carolina, Baylor University in Waco, Texas and the University of Tennessee.

In 1939, Mr. Lieberman came to the New Orleans Theological Seminary on invitation to set up the first courses taught there in personal counseling, social case work and family problems. He also had successful pastorates in Alabama and South Carolina before entering into evangelistic campaigns which have taken him to conferences across America and into Mexico, Europe, Central and South America, Canada and the Middle East.

As an author, Mr. Lieberman has written "The Whirlwinds of Life" (a booklet on suffering) and "Peter And The Nuclear Age."

Darold Baldwin, acting pastor of the First Baptist Church in Canyon, invites all residents to participate in the evangelistic services. Hugh Sanders, minister of music, will be in charge of the music programs.

Two Arrested

Two Canyon residents were arraigned Monday before Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson on charges of burglary of a residence. They had been arrested inside a local home garage Friday afternoon.

Chief of Police Al Stewart said officers arrested Jeff Gunter, 20, of 401 28th St., and Deborah R'Shea Tucker, 21, of the Lynette Apartments, inside the garage at a residence at 1215 Hillcrest.

Stewart said the officers were tipped to the alleged burglary by a neighbor.

The home is owned by Jeff Gunter Sr.

EXHIBIT "A"
NOTICE TO BIDDERS OF COUNTY'S INTENTION TO LET CONTRACT FOR CONSTRUCTION OF A COUNTY OFFICE BUILDING AND OF THE INTENT OF THE COUNTY TO ISSUE CERTIFICATES OF OBLIGATION.

SEALED PROPOSALS addressed to Commissioners' Court of Randall County, Texas, will be received at the Commissioners' Courtroom, County Courthouse, Canyon, Texas, until 1:30 o'clock P.M. on the 4th day of November, 1974, for the purpose of furnishing all plant, labor, materials and equipment and the performing of all work required for the construction of a County office building at which time and place the proposals will be publicly opened, read aloud and referred to the County's Architect for consideration, checking and evaluation. Final award of the contract and issuance of certificates of obligation are proposed to be made at 1:30 P.M. on the 14th day of November, 1974, by the Commissioners' Court convened in regular session at its regular meeting place at the County Courthouse.

BIDS shall be submitted in sealed envelopes upon the blank form of proposal furnished. Sealed envelopes shall be marked "BID FOR RANDALL COUNTY OFFICE BUILDING."

PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS and contract documents may be examined without charge at the office of the County Clerk, Randall County Courthouse, Canyon, Texas. Copies of such instruments may be obtained from VAUGHAN, McMORRIES & ASSOCIATES, at 7811 Amarillo Blvd., West, Amarillo, Texas. Applications for plans and specifications, etc., must be accompanied by a deposit of $200.00 for one set of plans and specifications. Any bidder, upon returning such plans and specifications in good condition, will be refunded his deposit. Any non-bidder, upon returning such plans and specifications in good condition will be refunded one-half of his deposit. Deposits will not be returned after ten days following the bid opening.

A cashier's check, certified check, or acceptable bidder's bond, payable to Randall County, Canyon, Texas, in the amount of five percent (5%) of the base bid must accompany each bid as a guarantee that, if awarded the contract, the bidder will promptly enter into a contract with Randall County and execute such bonds as may be required. Checks will be returned to unsuccessful bidders.

THE SUCCESSFUL BIDDER on the project will be required to furnish a performance bond and payment bond, each in the full amount of the contract, written by a responsible surety company authorized to do business in the State of Texas, and satisfactory to the Commissioners' Court as required by Article 5160, V.A.T.C.S. Attention of bidders is also directed to the provisions of Article 5159a, V.A.T.C.S., requiring that not less than the general prevailing rates of per diem wages for work of similar character in the locality where the work is performed shall be paid all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed in the construction of public works.

BIDDERS are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves of all local conditions, and carefully examine the plans, specifications and other documents. Should a bidder find discrepancies in, or omissions from the plans, specifications or other documents, or should he question their meaning, he should at once notify the Architect in writing seven (7) days prior to submitting any bid, and obtain clarification. Work shall be completed on the Project on or before December 1, 1975. If the work has not been completed by this date, amortization payments as set forth in the specifications shall be paid by Contractor.

NO BIDDER may withdraw his bid for at least fifteen (15) days after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids.

The date and time set for the awarding of the contract (November 14, 1974, 1:30 o'clock, P.M.) the County proposes to authorize the issuance of Certificates of Obligation (payable from taxation) in the maximum principal amount of $600,000 in payment of all or a portion of the contract price and the contractual obligation it will incur. The successful bidder will be required to accept such certificates in payment of all or a portion of the contract price or assign such certificates to the party with whom the County has made provision for the contractor to sell and assign such certificates at their face value (no accrued interest), and each bidder shall be required to elect on the bid form whether he will accept or assign such certificates.

In case of ambiguity or lack of clarity in stating the contract price, the County reserves the right to consider the most advantageous construction thereof or to reject the bid and to waive formalities.

Injuries. . .

sis is placed more on fundamentals than on hitting.

While a Monday night television special report condemned form tackling labelling it the culprit in many major injuries to high school players, McAlpin believes that form tackling itself is not the reason many players are injured seriously in the head and neck area.

The CHS coaches teach form tackling — a technique which teaches the player to tackle with his face mask placed in the numbers on the jersey of the opponent player.

"When I played, we tackled with the shoulder and we got our shoulders hurt," McAlpin said. "Injuries in football are just something you're going to get."

Form tackling was not the culprit, the athletic director said, in the injury to Forehand. He explained that game films indicate the Caprock ball carrier hit Forehand in the mid-section and Forehand doubled over the carrier's back, his face mask colliding with hip pads. At the same time the Caprock runner wedged Forehand's foot.

Frank Harrison they would not accept the plat until the culverts were changed and the right-of-way widened.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, provided commissioners a list of equipment she said her office needs to begin a reappraisal effort of the county. She asked for a new desk, typewriter, chairs, electronic calculator and a letter-size file cabinet.

Commissioners told her to return to seek the equipment when she had decided all that she would need for the reappraisal.

Charles Fritch, Amarillo insurance agent, discussed with commissioners a new policy for county employees, a policy which raises the benefit levels in some areas and also raises the premium payment by a slight amount.

Commissioners passed an order for the Nov. 5 general election.

In other business, Fletcher complained about the lack of communication with commissioners about business in their precincts.

"I'm displeased and unhappy with the procedures on the road program in regard to how it's handled," Fletcher said. He also complained that personal mail addressed to him had been opened before he received it. His basic complaint centered around the alleged fact that many times items concerning road maintenance were placed on the agenda without notice having been given the commissioner of the precinct within which the road maintenance problem was located.

County Judge Woody Pond defended his actions, noting that he tells people who call to be placed on the agenda to contact the commissioner in their precinct before the meeting.

"I'm not opening your damn mail," he told Fletcher.

Surprise Anniversary Party Held

By REBA RAEF

HELLO. I'M SORRY that I didn't get any news in last week, but I was called to Los Angeles, to attend funeral services for my sister, Alice. We brought my mother home with us for an extended visit.

MR. AND MRS. Conrad Westhoff were honored with a surprise party October 6 in the Vincent C. Meyer home. The occasion was their 45th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the party were the children of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Freeby, from Houston, who were unable to attend, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Artho, from Dalhart, Mrs. Margaret Frank, from Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Allen, from Brownfield, Miss Helen Westhoff, from Whiteface and the Vincent Meyers.

Guests for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brorman and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brorman, from Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reinart, from Dumas, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Friemel, from Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wieck, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wiech, Mr. and Mrs. John Wieck, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wieck, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Batenhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Buecker, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Batenhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Batenhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Koch, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Handing and Ed Huseman and Henry Bracht, all from Umbarger. After an evening of cards and dominoes, the hosts served lunch.

MEMBERS OF THE Knights of Columbus and the Umbarger Volunteer Fire department gathered at the home of Mrs. Ed Evers last week to clean up the grounds. They pruned trees, cut weeds and mowed the grass.

We know that since Mrs. Evers is more or less home bound, she really appreciates this. It makes her home look nicer and it's less of a fire hazard for her.

MRS. CONRAD WESTHOFF entertained members of the birthday club last Thursday in honor of her birthday, which was Oct. 6. The afternoon was spent playing Bingo and refreshments were served to Mesdames Vincent J. Meyer, W. P. Janssen, Chas J. Beckman, Ted Irlbeck, Ben Buecker, Gertrude Fischbacher and Aline Lindemann.

THE KNIGHTS OF Columbus observed Columbus Day, October 12, with a Barbeque dinner with all the trimmings in the Columbus Club Hall. Preparing and serving the meal was the Council Activities committee with Carroll Adams chairman, Vincent Friemel, Dennis Brandt and Dennis Hartman. After the dinner, cards and dominoes were enjoyed by the Knights, their ladies and their guests.

MR. AND MRS. Jack Brandt and Mark and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bracht, and Sister John Simmons went to Los Alamos, New Mexico last week end to attend the Baptism of the Bracht's great granddaughter, Marna Erin Reidel.

Her Godparents are her maternal grandparents, Otis and Pauline Farmer. Marna wore a little dress that the Bracht's brought her from Germany.

Following the Baptism, the Farmer's hosted a dinner in their new home. Parents of little Marna are Joe and Shelia Reidel.

MILTON SUTHERS WENT to Pagosa Springs, Colorado last week on a hunting trip. He is visiting the Craig Hingers.

FRANCES GROTEGUT IS again a patient in the hospital, this time she is in Neblett Hospital in Canyon. Get well wishes to Frances.

JENNIFER KAY KOCH, daughter of Howard and Letitia Koch of Dumas was Baptized Sunday, October 6 during the 10:00 Mass, with Father Schafle officiating. Godparents for Jennifer are Fred and Marie Wieck, uncle and aunt of the infant.

Attending the ceremony and the dinner that followed were the Bill Thompsons, Steve and Don, the Roy Custers and Gerald and Marilyn Doran, from Amarillo, Fred and Marie Wieck and daughters, from Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Irlbeck, Richard Paschel and Father Schafle, from Umbarger. The dinner was given in the home of Alice Koch.

JEREMY DANIEL FRIEMEL, grandson of Richard and Lillian Friemel, was Baptized Sunday, October 13. Godparents for Jeremy are Odessa and Snookey Lindemann. Jeanette and Frankie Bezner and children attended the Baptismal. Jeremy's parents are Robert and Karen Friemel.

MRS. KATHERINE CANNON, cousin of Clarence Beckman, is visiting Clarence for a few weeks. She lives in Van Alystine, Texas.

SISTER JOHN SIMMONS, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. Henry Bracht and other relatives in this area, left Tuesday for her home in San Antonio.

ACCORDING TO THE Festival chairmen, John Beckman and Jim Skarke, they can still use beef or pork for the sausage. You can call either one if you have a beef or hog for them.

MR. AND MRS. Charles Gerken of Phoenix, Ariz. stopped by one day last week to visit with his uncle and aunt, the W. P. Janssens.

IF YOU HAVE news for me, give me a call at 499-2164.

Bids. . .

"I'm a Randall County taxpayer myself."

Anderson said he bid a good typewriter "that would do a good job," but his bid didn't and couldn't meet the exclusive specifications.

"I want to sell typewriters, sure," Anderson said, "but I want to be sensible about it. Don't cut out the competition. I'd just like to know if these particular specifications are actually needed."

Commissioner John Fulgenzi gave the apparent reason for the exclusive bid-writing Monday when he moved that the IBM bid be accepted, and said "When we start getting off that typewriter (the IBM) then we get back our maintenance problems."

pulation of the computer's memory so as to fix or mess up the election results will be impossible, Henderson says.

Early this week, as a preliminary precaution, Henderson circulated a memorandum to all users of the computer, informing them the computer will be off-limits on election evening.

And, as an added precaution, prior to the time when the computer will go into operation for the election program, Henderson will pull the plug on all the input terminals located around the campus and in the county tax assessor-collector's office downtown.

Additionally, he said, a test will be run just prior to the closing of the polling places and the computer's memory will be blanked to guard against the possibility that a remote terminal might have been used earlier in the day or week to feed information which might distort the election results.

"We're set to head anything like that off because I'd be in a helluva fix if anybody did," he said. "The only access will be that one program."

The computer memory will be off limits to users from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. on the day of the election and besides the test to be run before the election results are fed in there will also be another test immediately following the election run.

"There's no way anybody could foul up that election," Henderson said emphatically.

The November general election, which will tell the results of several contested races on the local level, will also be the first election in Randall County for which more than 30,000 persons have registered to vote.

County Clerk Hutton believes, though, that only about 70 per cent of that number will cast ballots in the election.

He's ordered 26,300 ballots for the election, and believes his prediction will be close to the actual number of persons who go to the polls.

While in some Presidential election years, some precincts in the county have voted 90 percent of the registered voters, the figure has been somewhat lower for off-year elections.

In 1966, for example, about 67 percent of the registered voters in the county went to the polls. In 1970, the number was just slightly higher.

"Randall County has the highest voting record in the state," Hutton said, noting that in 1968, 83 per cent of the voters cast ballots and in 1972 it was the same story.

The primary election turnout last May is no indication, Hutton said, of the number who will vote in November. The turn-out locally was small in both Democratic and Republican primaries.

Absentee balloting for the November election began Wednesday in the county clerk's office. Persons who will be out of the county on Nov. 5 can vote in person at the clerk's office before Nov. 1 or can order a ballot through the mail to be delivered to an address outside the county.

taxpayers pay before the advertisement appears in the paper in an effort to keep their names from being published.

Mayor Manly Bryan said the possibility of eliminating the advertisements would be discussed by city commissioners, who would have to call a city charter election to change the procedure.

Jacobs also explained that the school district is still interviewing legal firms to provide tax collection service on delinquent taxes. He said the city would be informed when a decision is reached.

Following the joint meeting of the two boards, school board members discussed the possible loss of revenue for the next tax year due to the slack cattle market.

Board member Dr. Dudley Moore asked Jacobs his assessment of the effect the cattle market will have on the tax roll.

Jacobs said the tax roll suffered this year due to the dearth of cattle on wheat pasture last winter. He said he anticipates no trouble collecting taxes from cattle owners in Randall County Feedyard, noting that the district and feedyard have "an almost ideal working relationship" for the collection of taxes due.

Jacobs said there were 35,000 fewer head of cattle on the roll this year due to the lack of wheat pasture last winter.

Board members reviewed and okayed a new teacher evaluation form which will be filled out by each teacher and each principal. The form calls for principal and teacher to have a conference concerning the evaluation to discuss the ratings given by both teacher and principal.

Transfer Of Properties Of Interest To Gene Howe Residents

By TROYCE MULHERIN

GREETINGS:

FLASH! THERE IS an important meeting tonight down in Canyon.

Transfer of properties from the Canyon School District to the Amarillo School District will be up for discussion before the Randall County School Board of Trustees. The meeting will be held in the Randall County Courthouse in Judge Pond's courtroom, and will start at 7:30 P.M.

Speakers, pro and con, will be limited to three minutes each — all interested persons should make every effort to appear and state their positions regarding this property transfer. This is not just another meeting — this is your opportunity to express your views. You will be heard. Go!

FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENT WAS made that the Gene Howe Fan Club is growing by leaps and bounds.

There are no dues — the only thing the Gene Howe fan club wants from its members is a little of their time and talents. Members and their help will be utilized in various facets of school-related work and activities. So, please feel free to join and help.

This will be no long-time, all-day, every day commitment. Just some of your time given at your convenience. Interesting — fun — worthwhile!

SEVERAL OF THE P. E. classes at Gene Howe enjoyed a change in their usual M.O. last week! They "climbed the mountain"; made some bridges; and galloped to their heart's content.

GLORY BE! ANNOUNCEMENT was made at the PTA meetings that all (repeat — all) the area carpets have been completed for Gene Howe school! Time for rejoicing. The teachers and the students alike have expressed their happiness with respects to these rugs. They are used in reading areas, and, in fact, in any area of work involved in the school day in which the youngsters can sit or loll around on the carpet rather than in those ol' chairs. The capets seem to add a lot of color to the rooms, too.

To lead you out of the dark here, you need to know that Linda and Jim Bryant brought their tumbling mats and their talents to our school. The Bryants introduced our youngsters through some "stretching" exercises. (They called them "stretching" — I would call same impossible and/or tortuous.

After all — you try touching your knee with your nose while in one of those muscle-teasing positions! Oh, bring on the liniment!

Jim and Linda showed the young, limber ones some basic tumbling skills. Oh, Yeah. There is a lot more to galloping than you may think. Try it sideways, forward and (oh, agony) backwards.

Now, I've joked around in this telling, (and, I didn't see anyone of the adult types joining in on the fun. The excuses — you wouldn't believe the excuses!) but this is serious business. It comes under the heading of perceptual motor training — training that can help children to achieve more significantly in academic situations.

Research has supported the theory that motor skills and academic skills many times walk hand in hand. So, you can readily see that it wasn't all just for fun and games.

Jim, who incidentally has a child attending Gene Howe, has a Bachelor of Science degree in health, physical education and recreation and a Master of Science in Physical Education. He has taught P.E. in Borger, and taught P.E. and coached gymnastics in Irving and in Hurst.

Coach Bryant was formerly with Phillips Petroleum Company in the Recreation Department as gymnastic coach. He is the new gymnastics coach at Amarillo Townclub, Inc. and is preparing for a November 4th class in tumbling and trampoline at the club.

Coach Bryant is looking forward to returning to Gene Howe sometime soon — much to the inevitable delight of the youngsters. He is a man with whom they related, as they willingly and eagerly followed his soft-voiced instructions. We appreciate your visit, Jim and Linda.

ATTENTION! ON OCTOBER 28th there will be a reallllly big show at Gene Howe! Actually, our sixth graders will be presenting a patriotic program commemorating Veterans Day. The action will start at 10:15 in the cafetorium.

Margie Phillips, our fabulous music lady, had asked the youngsters what America meant to them. There were many, many commendable answers, but "freedom" seemed to rate the most votes. They took the youngsters replies and incorporated them into their production which is titled, "This Land, Our Land."

Everything and everyone at Gene Howe is "top notch" and this little production will enjoy the same rating in your books. So, be sure to make a note on your calendars to not miss this exciting event!

THE YMCA HAS designated this month as Gene Howe Month insofar as a special series of swimming lessons is concerned. The lessons began on Wednesday the 9th and classes will meet every Wednesday and Saturday for four weeks, for a total of eight lessons. Emphasis will be placed on personal safety through endurance and skill progression.

The YMCA will have its bus pick up students at the school and bring them back to the school after the lessons are over. Pickup and delivery times are 3:35 — 5:30 on Wednesdays and 2:50 and 4:35 on Saturdays. YMCA members pay five dollars and non-members pay ten dollars for this series. Call the Y at 374-4651 for info.

The sausage is "mild" and will sell for a dollar a pound — it comes in two pound packages.

Orders must be turned in by November 4th, as the sausage will be delivered between the 11th and 15th. Sam the Sausage (formerly, Porky the Pig) will be paid for when delivered. Call Bo at 622-0380 in the evenings and place your order for some yummy breakfast feasting.

Twenty per cent of the funds raised will go into the troop's general treasury; forty per cent will go toward the financing of two exciting scout outings — one being a snow skiing trip, hopefully. (Zoom down the slope!) The last forty per cent will defray the costs involved. Treat yourself and call Bo with an order.

THE CANYON BAND Parent's Association Spaghetti Supper was a grand success again this year. Talked with the pres. of the Association, Sherrie Cates, and she related the association's appreciation for the marvelous turnout. Seems that everyone not only enjoyed the good food, they also enjoyed seeing friends and visiting.

The sale of the desserts for the Kelly Forehand Fund netted $280 plus! The bake sale of uncut goods, cookbooks, ribbons, wrapping paper, bow makers and pins and so forth helped the treasury out a bit, too.

Sybil Youngblood of Canyon served as kitchen chairman; Lynn Guy was in charge of cakes and pies; and, Mrs. Harper was in charge of the table decorations. Just gotta tell you about the table decorations. Mrs. Harper and her helpers used dried loaves of bread that had been varnished and tied with gingham ribbons and bows. A spray of plastic flowers topped off the pretties which were interspersed with pumpkins on the tables. Darling. Darling.

Bettye (Mrs. Alton) and Sue (Mrs. Robert) Robinson have been named campus representatives to the Canyon Band Parents Association from Gene Howe.

UNFORTUNATELY, THE ASSOCIATION'S Haunted House project has had to be cancelled for this Halloween. Boo hoo. (That was really scary last year!)

So — needs for funds do go on — and the band has made plans for several bingo nights. The first bingo night is November 7th and will take place at the bull barn in Canyon at 7:30. March 14th and January 3rd are also scheduled for some fun playing nights.

There will be prizes, of course; the cards are two dollars for an evening — this lowly sum will entitle you to play as many games as you want to in an evening's length.

There will also be a bake sale of cut baked goods for your tummy's sake. Newcomers to the area would probably like to get themselves one of those dandy cookbooks, too! What's this I hear about some lively music during those bingo games? Go and enjoy — enjoy the games, the eating, the company — and most of all, enjoy helping this association out!

HAPPIES ARE IN store for Louise Bromley and for Shannon Edwards. Louise, the secretary at the school, and Shannon, the son of Sarah and Bill, share birthdays at the 16th.

Happies too to Billy Mayfield and to Pat Stevens. They celebrate each October, about the 18th.

AMARILLO AREA COUNCIL met last week. Luther Lawless, Ernestine Harp, Sarah Edwards and yours truly represented Gene Howe at this meeting, at which Mary Jakeman, president of the Amarillo Classroom Teachers Association, spoke on the various ways we as parents can help our children and our schools.

The next council meeting will be on November 4th, at which time various scholarships and financial aid programs will be explained. Everyone is welcome to attend these meetings. Who knows, you may find a way to send junior on to college with less stress and strain on the ol' budget. The general meeting starts at 1:30 at the School Administration Building. There will be Gene Howe peoples there so look someone up to sit with.

ROZELLA CRAGHEAD OF the Gazebo presented an interesting program during a recent Arts Unlimited meeting. Rosella's main interest is plaster, but she greatly enjoys knitting and needlepoint.

For you hobbyists, she has some practically unbreakable polyester-resin pieces which can be glued down on decorative items. Same can be finished with either acrylic or oil base paints. Interrrresting!

UNDERSTAND THAT NOVEMBER 8th is a district teachers meeting day, and therefore — a student holiday. November 28th and 29th are Thanksgiving Day holidays.

With a little luck and some swift phoning, one just might get a dental-optometrist-doctor appointment to coincide with these days.

Thanks for the use of the hall,

Faculty Recital Set At WT

Three baroque concertos for violin and harpsichord will be featured in Donald Todd's faculty recital on Oct. 20 at 3 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State University.

The Adagio in e major, K.261 by Mozart, the "Autumn" and "Winter" concertos by Antonio Vivaldi, and the Concerto in e major by J. S. Bach comprise the program for the second faculty recital of the season.

The two Vivaldi concertos for solo violin and harpsichord are from a set of four celebrating in musical terms the seasons of the year. The Vivaldi Concerto in f major, subtitled "Autumn," depicts a robust harvest celebration, complete with carousing and drunken hiccups in the first movement, and a hunt in the closing movement.

In the Concerto in f minor, subtitled "Winter," Vivaldi gave himself up to a riot of description. Ingenious passages for the solo violin describe such wintry details as chattering teeth, horrid winds, stamping feet, walking and falling on ice.

Carolyn Kite, an alumna of the University of Texas at Austin who is continuing her graduate music study at WTSU, will accompany Todd on the harpsichord in the baroque selections, and on the piano in the Mozart Adagio.

Todd, who joined the music faculty in 1967, received his bachelor and master's of music from Northwestern University, and his doctorate from the University of Illinois. He has appeared as soloist with the Kansas City Municipal Orchestra, the University of Kansas City Symphony, the Northwestern University Symphony Orchestra and the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, of which he is also concert master. In addition, Todd has performed with the WTSU Faculty Piano Trio in Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico and Texas.

"Performing baroque music with a harpsichord is both appropriate and enjoyable," Todd says, pointing out the advantages of the instrument.

"In the baroque every note is important, fitting into the total architecture of the piece. The harpsichord contributes to the architectural strength of baroque due to its greater articulateness, and promotes the baroque style of grandeur."

The recital will be followed by a reception in the formal lounge, to which the audience is invited.

Buffs Face Defensive Test

With four wins tucked under their belts, the West Texas State University Buffaloes will travel to Tulsa, Okla., this weekend to try to stop the passing attack of the Golden Hurricane, which boasts a deceptive 2-3 record.

Fresh from a 21-6 tromping of Idaho on the road last Saturday, the Buffs of Coach Gene Mayfield will carry a heady victory swing into the Oklahomans' Skelly Stadium.

WTSU officials are predicting the Tulsa game will be the defensive test of the year for the Buffaloes, who played stalwartly last weekend holding Idaho to no first downs and only 25 yards on the ground during the first half of that game.

Tulsa's famed quarterback Jeb Blount, is the pre-season All-MVC pick at that position and he now leads the loop with an average of 139 yards passing per game. WTSU's defensive unit is only sixth best in the league in stopping the passing attack.

Fans can expect, however, to see the Buffs defense stop the Hurricane on the ground as the Tulsans have depended to a great extent on the passing ability of Blount.

Saturday's game, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. kickoff, could go a long way in helping determine the MVC titlist this year. Tulsa's 2-0 mark is just a half-game ahead of the Buffs' 2-1. New Mexico and Louisville also hold 2-0 marks in MVC action.

The Buffs will also be heavily motivated by the fact that they have yet to defeat the Hurricane. Tulsa has won all four outings in the series and the closest the Buffs have come was the 17-13 decision in 1971, Mayfield's first year here.

Last week, the Buffs took its third straight win when Idaho fell to an awesome Buffalo offensive effort which rolled up 516 total yards, 433 of them on the ground.

Tulsa bombed Wichita State last week for its second MVC win. Blount and fellow Quarterback Ron Hickerson threw for 379 yards including 60- and 57-yard plays to Steve Largent and a 60-yarder to Jessie Green.

A set of bounding backs made the difference for the Buffs in the game against Idaho and fans are hoping Johnny Darden has found a niche through the line.

Darden, chosen MVC player of the week for his outing against Southern Mississippi, took the ball on the first play from scrimmage last weekend and scooted 66 yards up the middle. He didn't stop until he'd amassed 110 yards on 15 carries, a 7.3 average.

Eddie Richardson, a Buffalo halfback, was doing the bulk of the work against Idaho, carrying 21 times and compiling 98 yards. Richardson's running mate at halfback, Ricky Rice, carried only nine times but picked up 87 yards, including a 29-yard touchdown run, for a 9.6 average.

The Buffs face another road trip after this weekend, set to travel to Utah to play Utah State.

Eagle ball carrier Adrian Foil runs into an immovable object in the form of a crouching Palo Duro Don during action Friday night in Kimbrough Stadium. After holding the Dons during the first half, the Eagles dropped the outing 41-14. They open their district competition Friday night at Dumas.

Eagles Begin District Play

The Canyon Eagles travel to Dumas Friday night for their first district outing of the season and they'll find the Demons licking their own wounds from a tough 4-A schedule.

Both teams now stand at 1-4 for the season, playing such notables as Borger, Pampa, Caprock and Palo Duro.

Coach Ron Mills is preparing his Eagles for the passing game as the Demon quarterback is expected to take to the air as well as make his presence felt on the ground. The senior starter was a district champion in the 100-yard dash as a sophomore.

Speed and quickness is also anticipated by Mills in the Demon backfield and he refers to the Demons of 1974 as being very similar to the standout teams produced on the North Plains in the 1960s.

The Eagles, who made a mighty showing last weekend against Palo Duro, will be suffering from injuries when the district opens. Rusty Holladay, a senior linebacker, will not play due to an injury and Larry Pate, a wingback, and Mark Jackson, an end, will be slowed due to sprained ankles.

Quarterback Garre LaGrone suffered a bruised knee in the Palo Duro outing and will also be slowed.

Bob Lindsey, starring center for the Eagles, was injured in the first half of the Palo Duro game and underwent knee surgery Monday night in Amarillo. The big junior is not expected to see action for the remainder of the season.

Gaining the reputation as a first-half ballclub, the Eagles played admirably last weekend against the Dons, leading at the halftime mark by a 14-7 margin and holding the leading Don ground gainers to a minimum of yardage.

Last year, the Canyon team downed Dumas with a 15-12 victory to break a six game losing streak.

Bike Winners Are Named

A four-man team headed by Canyon's Raby Ratliff won the big Canyon 500 bicycle race even under threatening and finally rainy skies Saturday afternoon here, taking home $100 in gift certificates.

The team came in about four laps ahead of a team headed by Steve Baird.

The Ratliff team as well as the two other competing teams in the day's big race agreed that due to cloudy skies they'd shorten the race to 50 rather than the standard 100 laps around the Canyon courthouse. The race ended in a downpour.

Third place team in the open relay class was a group headed by Bruce Byrd.

Other winners in the bike races, which were sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and the Canyon Police Department, include:

BOYS 8-10 — Lanny Lee Wilkins, 2521 10th Ave., 1; Eddie Collier, Canyon Creek #47, 2; Joe Doss, Rt. 1, Box 122, 3; Tommy Brock, 1704 9th Ave., 4; Mike Korsmo, 1010 3rd Ave., 5; and Mike Collier, #47 Canyon Creek, 6.

Dr. Suzanne Blair's volleyball team will try to improve on their 6-6-3 season record this weekend as they travel to Abilene on Thursday to play Hardin-Simmons University. On Friday and Saturday the Buffs will be participating in the Howard College Invitational tournament in Big Spring.

West Texas State's record with Hardin-Simmons for the year is two victories for WT against one defeat.

Activities will be in the WTSU fieldhouse.

The sketches will be given to the individual player.

WT Girls Softball Team Goes To State Tourney

Coach Mary Hill will take her Buffalo gals to Nacogdoches to compete in the state softball tournament on the campus of Stephen F. Austin University. Play will begin Saturday the 19th.

"Although we are the north zone champions, inexperience will be the key factor as we face well experienced teams," said Coach Hill. Such teams as North Texas State, Texas Tech, and the University of Texas have had established programs for many years and experience is hard to beat.

West Texas gained the right to play in the state tournament as north zone champions by defeating Wayland Baptist College two weeks ago in Amarillo.

Fish And Fowl

By GARY CONNER

In Amarillo very soon you will get the chance to see some real, practical conservationists doing their thing.

This will not be the kind of fund raising organization that takes 80 percent as their cut, floods newspapers, magazines, and radio and television with piteous appeals for donations.

For in Ducks Unlimited, the work is done by volunteers, many of them who do not even hunt, others who hunt only occasionally and still more who could afford a plush private shooting reserve if they chose.

Ducks Unlimited was born back in 1937 when concerned outdoorsmen realized that the once sky-darkening flocks of ducks and geese were steadily diminishing. Practical conservationists banded together and began to help do something about it.

Financed, scientific study discovered the continent's three major waterfowl nesting areas in three Canadian provinces; Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, were being drained and marshes being reclaimed for farming.

The United States government could not, of course, turn money over to Canada for conservation. But it did help by approving Ducks Unlimited and granting tax free status to donations.

Since Ducks Unlimited was formed it has financed and constructed over 1,200 water control projects and made possible prime nesting areas for over 250 species of water birds on over two million acres of prime habitat. DU has raised over $33 million for waterfowl conservation, and with such an example, Canada and Mexico have also formed Ducks Unlimited organizations for the same purpose.

The people responsible for raising DU money and for seeing that all of it goes for the purpose intended, instead of to fund raising agencies, are still at it.

On the evening of Nov. 7, DU will hold a dinner and auction in the Big Texan Steak House in Amarillo. It will start at 6:30 p.m. and tickets will be $15 each for the traditional stag affair.

At this time, the DU committee made up of Dr. T. E. Howard and Billy Fred Jones of Amarillo, and Gary Taylor of Canyon are taking orders for table reservations which are made by some area companies that are sincerely interested in waterfowl conservation.

They are also taking individual reservations. They, and other volunteers have arranged a fine dinner and program, and an auction of some very quality merchandise.

The group of Ducks Unlimited was formed long before the "ecology" fad and before radicals got into conservation with their well-meant but disastrous results.

DU has appealed right along to the lovers of the outdoors who know the difference between sound conservation and the ripoff of radicals who worm their way into old and respected conservation organizations.

If it had not been for Ducks Unlimited there would probably be few water birds of any species left to observe by bird watchers. And certainly the duck and goose seasons would only be memories.

The hunting seasons coming up are as follows:

*Pheasant — Dec. 14 through Dec. 29 (2 cocks per day).

*Quail — Nov. 16 through Feb. 16 (except Wheeler and Collingsworth Counties — Dec. 1 through Jan. 31).

*Deer — Nov. 23 through Dec. 8 (1 mule deer and 1 whitetail deer).

*Auodad sheep — Nov. 16 through Nov. 22.

*Sandhill Crane — Oct. 26 through Jan. 26 (West of Hwy. 87 — three birds).

*Geese — Oct. 19 through Jan. 19 (2 per day).

*Ducks — (Split season). Nov. 4 through Nov. 24/Dec. 7 through Jan. 19.

Point System:

70 pts. — Hen Mallard, Wood Duck, Hooded Meganzer.

15 pts. — Blue Wing Teal, Cinnamon, Pintail, Wedgeon, Gadwall, Scaup, Shoveller, Merganzers (other).

100 pts. — Canvasback, Red Head.

35 pts. — All Others.

Each waterfowl hunter is allowed 100 points in ducks per day, and the downed duck which takes him over 100 points means the end of that day's hunt for him. One to seven ducks can be taken under this point system, per day.

A limited number of mule deer and auodad sheep hunts are still available for the season coming. The prospects of bagging a good trophy are excellent this year in the Palo Duro Canyon area according to the game officials, and my local scouting trips confirm this report.

To book a hunt for auodad, deer, or waterfowl, call 655-9259 or come by at 18 Greenwood, Hunsley Hills. Pheasant hunts are available also as an individual hunt, or in combination with waterfowl during December.

Did you know that ASPIRIN lessens the anti-inflammatory effect of the medicine you are taking?

In addition to this, if you are taking frequent does of aspirin while you are "on" Indocin, your actions could possibly lead to stomach trouble—or worse.

Your doctor knows what prescription medicines to give you, and what not to give you. BUT, unless you told him, would he know if later, you decided to take aspirins for one or more days?

Special recognition will be given to all native born Wayside residents and to those who have lived in the Wayside area 50 years or more.

Current officers are Henry Hamblen, president; Joyce Lane, vice president; Mrs. Rae M. Walters, secretary; and Ruth Hinders, program chairman. During the business session, new officers are scheduled for election.

First Frost Falls In October

By DORIS McKEE

WELL, HERE IT is already the middle of October and the first frost has now befallen us. Time really is flying by. It seems to be getting colder and it sure has been wet. Bet we will have some warm, dry pretty days around here before long, though.

You know, I asked Eunice Rinehart about this weather and she told me that she had personally ordered it. She has also ordered more wind and some snow, and she never did say whether or not she was kidding.

BY THE WAY, there's a new green (chartreuse) bug running around in the park. It belongs to Mary and Rickey Lopez of 114 La Fiesta. Please don't try to kill it. It's a Volkswagon bug.

* * *

THE LADIES AUXILIARY met on Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. It was a regular business meeting, with social talk afterward. The Halloween carnival is still the main topic. Be sure to get those costumes made and try for those prizes of 1st, 2nd and 3rd for the best dressed ghoul. We'll be looking for all of you to come have some fun with us.

* * *

THE LADIES AUXILIARY would like very much to thank James Arnold and Dean Brady of 140 Loma Linda for their very nice donations to the Volunteer Fire Department Fund. It is sincerely appreciated and will certainly be put to the very best use. Also Mr. Rex Gore of 259 Loma Linda is a faithful contributor to this fund and we wish to express our sincere thanks to him.

IT SEEMS CHERRY and Jimmy Carter found a place to hang their hats in Ore City, Texas and have taken their Mobile Home and left us. We wish them the best.

James and Ann Cabe have left us also. Hope things will be good for them wherever they have gone.

The Larry Fry's have taken their Mobile Home from 109 Loma Linda down to Arlington for a while. He is on a training program for the telephone company. They will return when it is complete.

Jeff Chase has moved his mobile home into 136 Siesta. He is a student. Welcome to the park. We hope you will like it here.

PAULA IVY CELEBRATED her sixth birthday recently with a party. Hope you have many, many more. She is the daughter of Sue Ivy, 206 La Fiesta.

Christy Hoffman has added another year to her age. She celebrated her 7th birthday this week. She is the daughter of Diana and Jon Hoffman of 201 La Fiesta.

JIM JOHNSON WAS in the Northwest Texas Hospital for surgery recently. He is the son of the Clay Johnsons of 125 Siesta. A speedy recovery is wished for him.

Talked to Sharon Jones the first of the week. She was still in High Plains Baptist Hospital. Hoping to get to come home in a few days. They still haven't found her back problem, but are still testing and looking. Am sure they will find it. We're still pulling for you Sharon.

I heard Kathy Burgan has been confined to the house for quite a while now. Seems the two younger girls came down with the chicken pox. Bet she's really tired of spots by now.

MYSELF ALONG WITH several other mothers and fathers attended the PTA meeting on Monday night at Gene Howe. I had a very nice visit in my son, Tod's, classroom.

BY THE WAY, we have Blue Birds meeting on Tuesdays and Brownies meeting on Wednesdays at the recreation building.

NOW FOR THE football report. The 4th grade team, Mickey Bays plays on, had a good game Sunday. They played Paramount and beat them 21 to 12. That's just great.

The 5th grade team, Tod McKee and Paul Qualls play on, had a make-up game on Friday night. They played the Paramount 5th grade team and lost to them by a 13 to 0 score. We have one more game to play, but due to the weather it was cancelled Sunday. We will have a make up on it sometime this week. Give it all you've got boys, it's your last chance this year. We'll back you all the way.

The 5th and 6th grades combined team that Roger Robertson, Shannon Jones and Michael Coffelt play on had a game Sunday. Didn't find out who played, but was told they lost by a 24 to 0 score. Don't feel bad boys, I did hear you played a real good game. Keep trying.

* * *

ALBERT AND KATIE Rinne of 131 La Fiesta had company over the weekend. Albert's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rinne of Wilson, Texas were there. On Sunday they all went over to Lake Meredith and looked around.

SEEMS EUNICE AND Barney Rinehart were on the move again. They were in Hobbs, New Mexico visiting Vera Tate, Barney's sister, for three days. Over the weekend they had house guests. They kept their grandson, Laine McWilliams and his dog, Rascal, while his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McWilliams, Sr., were in Dallas for a sales meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom McWilliams stopped in Vernon, Texas and visited the Guinn Davenports, before they returned here to pick up Laine and Rascal. Also on Sunday Eunice and Barney had their other two grandsons and their families out for lunch. This certainly is a good example of family togetherness.

MY MOTHER MRS. E. M. Weaver came up and spent the weekend with us. She lives in Lubbock. On Saturday afternoon we went to my aunt and uncle's, the Roy Crumleys in Pleasant Valley for dinner.

Others there were another Aunt and Uncle, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Crumley of Phoenix, Arizona. They were on their way to Memphis, Tenn. We had a real good dinner, lasagna, Spanish rice, salads, fresh green beans, garlic bread and for dessert a banana split cake. The evening was truly enjoyed by all.

IT WOULD BE most wise for everyone in the park to keep several bottles of water stored somewhere in the house. Accidents do happen, and it is to your advantage to have some water stored up, while the main line has to be shut off.

GUESS I HAD better put down my pencil for now. More next week, so keep reading.

This week's thought: "When everything seems to be going wrong, just make a right turn."

See ya.
